Travelling from Ireland

If you are planning a self-drive holiday from Ireland, a wide choice of ferry routes are available.

Sail direct

Both Irish Ferries and Brittany ferries offer direct sailings to France – more details can be seen below. These ferry crossings are popular, so you will need to book well in advance.

Landbridge

A 'landbridge' crossing is when you combine a crossing from Ireland to the UK and a channel crossing from the UK to the continent. This is a popular choice with many customers, as it offers plenty of flexibility with a wide choice of crossings available.

When planning your landbridge crossing, please remember that you need to use the same operator for each return journey (i.e. from Ireland to the UK and from the UK to the continent), but you can combine any operators to create the landbridge route.

Route	Operator	Additional information
Rosslare-Cherbourg	Irish Ferries	Up to three crossings a week. Crossing time approx 19 hrs 30 mins. Cabins or reclining seats compulsory.
Rosslare-Roscoff	Irish Ferries	Up to three crossings a week. Crossing time approx 17 hrs. Cabin or reclining seats compulsory.
Cork-Roscoff	Brittany Ferries	One crossing a week. Crossing time approx 13 hrs. Cabin or reclining seats compulsory.

Please call for full details of crossing times and prices.

Irish Ferries

Whether you choose to sail direct to Roscoff and Cherbourg or select one of the many landbridge sailings, the Irish Ferries ships offer a great range of facilities on board.

Brittany Ferries

Travelling on the Brittany Ferries Pont Aven ship from Cork to Roscoff is like taking a holiday in itself. The facilities on board are superb, and include numerous restaurants and bars.

Stena Line offer some of the fastest Landbridge routes from Ireland to the UK. The high quality ships offer a range of facilities including bars, restaurants and relaxation areas.

General information

Second car

If you are taking two cars there is an additional charge of £100 to pay for the second car, plus any route supplements shown on p128-131 or on the website.

Accommodation only

If you prefer to make your own ferry booking or are planning a fly-drive holiday and would like make an accommodation only booking, you can. We deduct £50 for 'Accommodation only' bookings.

Ferry supplements

Supplements are determined by the date of your outward/inward travel and are based on information currently available from the ferry operators and are subject to change. Supplements will be increased if oil surcharges are imposed (including those on nil-supplement crossings).

See p128-131 or the website for further supplement information.

Timings

Crossing times & durations are subject to change. Exact crossing time will be confirmed at the time of booking.

Change to the vehicle

Please let us know if you change your vehicle or add roof boxes, bikes etc.

Ferry space

The ferry supplements shown are calculated using low cost Tour Operator fares. Space at these fares is limited. When your requested crossing is full, we will book the nearest crossing available on Tour Operator fares.

Some members do not require a ferry

There is no reduction for party members that do not require a ferry crossing.

Roof box, roof rack, cycle carrier

We need to know if you are taking roof rack, roof box, cycles, windsurfs or anything else that means your vehicle is over height.

Over height vehicles

If your vehicle (including roof rack, roof box, cycle carrier) is more than 1.80m, the ferry company may make an extra charge.
